Test 2 – Reading comprehension

Read the following passages. Each of them is the answer to one of the questions (a, b, c or d). Read the passages and decide which is the most appropriate question. Write your answers in the boxes below. The first one is already done.

- a) What does she like?
- b) What is she like?
- c) What does she look like?
- d) How is she?

0. She's very nice, actually. You'd really like her. She's the kind of person you can always go to with a problem.
1. She's not too good. Still got a temperature and a cough that she can't shake off.
2. Her greatest passion is horse-riding. She lives for horses from morning till night.
3. I can't stand her. She's everything I don't like in a woman. She's bossy, she's superior, and she thinks she can do everything better than other people.
4. Very plain. Long straight hair, high forehead, and a bit plump.
5. She's fine. Very happy since she met Bernard, and she seems to be very well, too.
6. Mmm... A bit like you, actually. Same build, same height, and similar color eyes.
7. She's quite nice. The kind of girl you go for. But she's a bit too serious for me. You know, politics, literature, human rights, and things like that.
8. Gardening, cooking and sailing, in that order.
9. The doctors say she'll be in hospital for at least another month.
10. She's like looking at her mother's reflection in a mirror.

Test 3 – Read the e-mail about Nancy’s Easter plans. She has left out some capital letters. Mark the mistakes in her e-mail by underlining them, as in the example. There are 18 mistakes left for you to underline.

EASTER E-MAIL

Dear yolanda

I’m writing this on easter sunday. We went to church this morning and now I am very excited because the whole family is coming here this afternoon for a special meal. It will be fun because they are all spanish. I don’t know what mom is cooking – either lamb or turkey. Even uncle bob is coming with his brand new mustang. He lives in Newark, a city in new Jersey. My cousins are coming too. I expect they’ll bring me a swiss chocolate egg. I have bought some delicious chocolate eggs for them. They have never seen our new house in central falls, so I can’t wait to show them my room. I think they like playing the game you gave me for my birthday. I know aunt Alice likes to play, because last time they visited us we played and she won. When we were younger we used to play Easter egg hunt but we’re too old for that now. They’ll be here till thursday or friday so you must come over and meet them. I hope you will come.

your friend,

P.S. I need to talk to you about our english homework. I don’t understand the book we’re reading. Alice in wonderland is a really complicated story.

Attention!

Instructions for the teacher: have the students go through the statements before the first reading. Read the text twice.

1,000$ FOR YOUNG VANCOUVER POET

Sixteen-year-old Linda Ho from Richmond, Vancouver has won the British Columbia “Young Poet of the Year” competition, with her poem Whale Song. Linda, from Stevenson High School, takes home a prize of $1,000.

Linda has already written about 30 poems, but she has never entered a competition before. “It was a big surprise for me,” she says. “I didn’t expect to win.”

Linda says that she thought of the poem when she came out of an elevator and saw a painting of a whale on a wall. “But sometimes I get ideas for poems when I’m walking on the sidewalk, or when I’m on the subway,” she says.

Linda has already decided how to spend the prize money. “A web camera for my computer, and some books by my favorite poets.” Linda has just done her school-leaving examinations, and she hopes to go to university to study Marine Biology. “I haven’t decided about a career yet,” says Linda, “But I’d like to work in something to do with the sea, for sure.”

Linda also wants to keep writing poetry. “I’ve won one competition, it would be nice to win another one!”
